September Program

Corey Hebner, community service officer with the Michigan State Police in Gaylord, gave a very informative presentation about drug usage in our area, especially among teenagers. Hebner said teens are mostly influenced by their parents' drug usage, though the types of friends they have are a major factor, too. An encouraging statistic he shared is that 50 percent of teens never use drugs in high school, something he feels should be celebrated more.

During his slide presentation, Hebner reviewed a number of popular drugs which are circulating in the area, noting alcohol is the most easily available drug to abuse. Many were surprised at the various forms of alcohol that are now available, especially powdered options.

Annual Meeting News

Julia Kort presented information about all of the Women's Club committees, including the chairs and members; she also summarized what each one is responsible for and encouraged members to get involved in one of the committees during the coming year. She reviewed who the current board members are and then presented the 2025 board nominations. Jan Bishop and Kaye Frange, pictured here, were elected and will each serve a two-year term.
